BROADCAST SOUND & SECURITY MOBILE WORK STATION

With a strong design, (to include a locked internal storage compartment with shelving and a power strip included) industrial casters and an adjustable Ergotech mounting arm, the MWS serves as a mobile work station that can meet the highest security standards in schools, hospitals and business environments.

With a silver “hammertone” finish, the MWS also serves as a professional lectern for use in any school, corporate or commercial setting from universities, to board rooms to hotels and convention centers. The flat screen monitor arm can be made to face the presenter or the audience, offering easy support as a reference for projected presentations to a large group or to be used as a platform for presentations or demonstrations to a much smaller audience.
